LOWER ZAMBEZI NATIONAL PARK - ZAMBIA
SAUSAGE TREE CAMP

Founded in 1996 as Zambia’s most luxurious bush camp, located within the exclusive Lower Zambezi National Park (LZNP), Zambia, Sausage Tree Camp, has redefined the safari experience and become the benchmark for Zambian bush chic. The camp, named after the sausage shaped fruit in the giant Sausage Trees, was awarded “Best Location in Africa” at the Good Safari Guide Awards and rated No. 1 by the BBC’s holiday program’s 10 best luxury resorts of the world. These accolades are a credit to the vision and reputation that owner operated Sausage Tree Camp (Chifungulu Ltd.) and director Jason Mott have established. The camp has a privileged location within the natural beauty of the protected Lower Zambezi National Park with it’s abundance of wildlife.

Sausage Tree Camp has no boundaries and is ideally placed in the heart of the LZNP, where the animals are free to wander straight through and around the camp making the comfort of your tent the ideal wildlife viewing sanctuary. Sausage Tree Camp hosts a maximum of eighteen guests, accommodated in seven Luxury Suites dotted discreetly along the riverbank. Each Luxury Suite is a spacious island of cool minimalist style serviced by a Muchinda (private butler). Highlights being the unique open-air shower, a large deck with private plunge pool & lounge area, mini bar with leather sofas and a view to marry for... The camp also offers a large swimming pool which is idyllically situated, overlooking the mighty Zambezi River! We also have the Kigelia House, consisting of two ensuite bedrooms, a large living area, huge timber deck with built in swimming pool, plus a mini bar and dining table.

Today the Mott family own and run Sausage Tree Camp and her Sister Camp Potato Bush Camp. Having fallen in love with the beauty and game of the Lower Zambezi area in 1996 while helping to build Sausage Tree Camp, Jason decided to stay becoming a qualified guide, then manager and finally achieving his dream of making it his own in 2000. He now enjoys sharing his love and passion with his wife and two children.
